A GUIDE TO LONDON'S MUSEUMS

A. THE MUSEUM OF LONDON

Follow in the footsteps of the Romans, who founded London 2000 years ago, and go on a trip through the history of the capital. Take a virtual tour of Victorian London, and see how the city became the planet's first metropolis or visit the second World War gallery, which tells the story of Londoners' bravery during the Blitz. The new modern London galleries will open in early 2010 but until then visitors can still enjoy our prehistoric, Roman and medieval London galleries, as well as events and exhibitions for all ages including London's Burning, a special exhibition which explores the Great Fire of London. This is the world's largest urban history museum with over one million objects in its collection.

150 London Wall, EC2Y 5HN. Tube Stations: Barbican, St. Paul's Admission: Free.
Opening Times: Daily: 10am-6pm Open until 9pm on the 1st Thursday of the month.

B. THE NATIONAL MARITIME MUSEUM

Greenwich is the home of the largest maritime museum in the world. It embraces the traditions, the smells and the sounds of the sea that washes its feet and includes some of the most classically beautiful buildings in Britain. Britain's naval history is illustrated by actual craft and scale models as well as by art and personal relics of the greatest sea-captains of British history. The building also houses the recently updated Royal Observatory. Apart from the museum itself, Greenwich is a fascinating place to explore, with parks and walks by the river.

Romney Road, Greenwich, London, SE10 9NF. Train stations: Greenwich and Maze Hill
Admission: Free. Opening Times: Winter 10:00 - 17:00      Summer 10:00 - 18:00

C. THE VICTORIA AND ALBERT MUSEUM

The Victoria and Albert Museum has long been established as a leading advocate of contemporary art and design. Born out of the Great Exhibition of 1851, the Museum was originally conceived as a "classroom for everyone," to educate the working population and inspire British designers and manufacturers. From this founding principle has evolved the greatest museum of the decorative arts.

Highlights of the V&A include the national collection of water-colours and photography, the Dress Collection, showing fashion from 1500 to the present day, the famous 15th century Devonshire Hunting Tapestries, the examples of the designer furniture, textiles and wallpapers, magnificent selections of Renaissance and Victorian sculpture, and the 20th Century Gallery, dedicated to contemporary art and design.
Cromwell Road, South Kensington, SW7 2RL. Tube Station: South Kensington. Admission: Free.
Opening Times Daily 10:00 - 17:45 Wednesday and last Friday of the month 10:00 - 22:00

D. THE BRITISH MUSEUM

Founded in 1753 to promote understanding through the arts, natural history and science in a public museum, it is visually the most impressive of all the London Museums, a huge neo-classical building with an exterior consisting of a series of enormous and most magnificent pillars.

You could spend days there just viewing the incredible array of Greek, Roman and Egyptian antiquities alone - including the famous Elgin Marbles from the Parthenon in Athens. There are also stunning treasures from China, Japan, India and Mesopotamia as well as Anglo-Saxon and Roman Britain. Prints and drawings, coins and medals are displayed in a series of temporary exhibitions. The British Library exhibition galleries are also housed within the British Museum.

Great Russell Street , WC1B 3DE. Tube Station: Tottenham Court Road. Admission: Free
Opening Times: Sat - Wed: 10:00 - 17:30 Thur - Fri: 10:00 - 20:30

E. GEFFRYE MUSEUM

The Geffrye Museum is one of London's most friendly and enjoyable museums, set in elegant 18th century almshouses with delightful gardens, just north of the city.

The museum presents the changing style of the English domestic interior from the 1600's to the 1950's.

The displays lead the visitor on a walk through time; from the 17th century with oak furniture and panelling, past the refined elegance of the Georgian rooms and the ornate style of the Victorian parlour, to 20th century Art Deco and post-war utility. The museum and gardens are brought to life through drama, music, workshops, and seminars, with special holiday activities for families and children. The award-winning walled herb garden is open from April to October. Special facilities for disabled visitors

Kingsland Road, London, E2 8EA. Tube Station: Liverpool Street Admission: £5.00

Opening Times: Tuesday - Saturday 10:00 - 17:00; Sunday & Bank Holiday Mon 12:00 - 17:00

F. THE SCIENCE MUSEUM

The Science Museum is the largest museum of its kind in the world. It contains over 200,000 exhibits covering almost every imaginable sector of science, technology, industry and medicine.

Many of the exhibits are interactive so visitors can explore and discover science and technology for themselves. The principles of flight, for example, are explained in the interactive Flight Lab and visitors can get a "health check" in the Health Matters gallery.

Exhibits from the past include some of the oldest cars, planes and trains. The five storey premises can help you explore Space, learn all about Transport and discover the field of Photography and Cinematography.

In the basement 'The secret life of the Home' gallery has historic and current domestic appliances and gizmos.

The museum also has a special programme of events including demonstrations, character dramas and science shows. It's loads of fun for all the family and guided tours are also available. Disabled Access.

Exhibition Road, South Kensington, SW7 2DD. Tube Station: South Kensington Admission: Free

Opening Times: Monday - Sunday 10:00 - 18:00

G. MADAME TUSSAUD'S MUSEUM AND THE LONDON PLANETARIUM

Home of kings, queens, heroes and villains. Where else can you experience an audience with royalty, meet the great and powerful, mingle with the stars and come face to face with the infamous? Over two million visitors a year come to see the rich and famous depicted here in lifelike wax.

The Planetarium is next door and presents a working, computerized representation of the universe and our solar system. Its copper dome plays host to more stars than Madame Tussaud's! Seated inside, you can enjoy a star show which will take you far beyond our own fragile world. With a perfect sky as a backdrop, many worlds and puzzles of the universe will be revealed.

Marylebone Road, London NW1 5LR. Tube Station: Baker Street. Opening Times: Daily, 9.30am to 5.30 pm
Admission: Adult £25.54, Child £21.46 , Family (includes free Guidebook) £88.78
